

You Have a Place at UC Berkeley IEOR

Important information about your UC Berkeley application is enclosed.

View this email in your browser

Berkeley

Industrial Engineering & Operations Research

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

We don't just want you to succeed— we want you to thrive!

As a graduate student at UC Berkeley, you become a part of a prestigious community that boasts 110 Nobel Laureates, 103 MacArthur Fellows, and 30 Pulitzer Prize winners among our alumni and faculty. You'll learn from pioneers and innovators, be inspired by your peers, and make an impact through your research, teaching, and social activism.

Graduate Division Welcome Letter

IEOR's Commitment

At the Industrial Engineering and Operations Research department, we have an essential responsibility to ensure access, diversity, equity, and inclusion in our programs. Our vision is to grow our programs while ensuring that we provide opportunities to students from all sections of society and train highly skilled professionals to contribute to a diverse workforce.

You can find additional information about the College of Engineering's DEI Strategic Plan and the four DEI focus areas IEOR is committed to in the About section of our website.

Message from the Chair

The Office of Graduate Diversity

The Office for Graduate Diversity was established to provide outreach, confidential advising, and mentoring support to students seeking graduate degrees at UC Berkeley. OGD is designed to enhance the educational experience of underrepresented students. OGD serves as a resource for the admissions process, academic support, financial advice, and professional development. We invite you to access the various resources on the OGD website.

Connect with a Diversity & Community Fellow

Experience Diversity 2022 Event Series

For over 45 years, UC Berkeley has been committed to encouraging and supporting underrepresented students on the Berkeley campus. We invite you to view a series of events and hear from the Dean of the Graduate Division, the Assistant Dean for Diversity, and members of the Office for Graduate Diversity about the unique opportunities that exist at Cal and how we are committed to your academic, professional, and social success. At Experience Diversity 2022, you'll have a chance to:

- Hear from current diverse students about graduate student realities
- Learn about housing options and navigating the best resources
- Gain insights about financial aid/fellowship opportunities

- Discover essential campus services and resources

While many of these events have already taken place, they are available on-demand via this webpage.

Experience Diversity 2022

We look forward to seeing you soon!

Industrial Engineering and Operations Research Staff

This email was sent to

why did I get this? unsubscribe from this list update subscription preferences

UC Berkeley Industrial Engineering & Operations Research · 4141 Etcheverry Hall · University Of California Berkeley · Berkeley, CA 94720-1777 · USA